FEBRUARY 2026

STEP TWO

Came to believe that a power greater than ourselves could restore us to sanity.

"The word 'sanity' seems to bother a lot of people. They get the idea that if they have to be restored to sanity, they must be insane. This isn't so. Sanity means wholeness-thinking in a healthy way."

—Alateen Hope for Children of Alcoholics, p. 13

This is my favorite step because the buck stops here. Do I want sanity, or do I want to continue with my insane behavior and thoughts? I choose wholeness one day at a time. This requires me to work my program: have a sponsor, work the steps, attend meetings regularly, work with others, and do service work.

This step brings hope that I can be a healthier person for myself and toward my loved ones. I can look at myself and see where my behavior has been fueled by fear.

When I get frightened, I lash out with angry or insane behavior. I fear losing control or not getting my way and I think I know what is best. The insane or unhealthy thoughts and actions are my defects of character that need to be identified and worked on with the help of a sponsor.

First, I need to look at my concept of my Higher Power. I knew I needed a loving Higher Power. In the beginning, my concept of God (or my misconception of my birth religion God) was punishing. My unhealthy thoughts said "well, since I have already done these bad or sick things, I guess it's a done deal." When I entered Al-Anon, I heard stories of members with a loving Higher Power and how their Higher Power had helped them. Their God was loving and kind, wanting what is best for us. Today I try to keep it simple. God is love. I pause and ask myself these questions: am I performing this action in a loving way? Are these words kind? Am I working my own program and not someone else's?

Today, Step Two gives me a sense of peace, knowing that I do have a way to a saner life with the help of the Al-Anon program and the loving people who attend meetings.

"When I was introduced to Step Two, it gave me hope to know that I didn't have to tackle my life all by myself. A power greater than I am was available and willing to help. All I had to do was believe."

Tradition Two

For our group purpose there is but one authority – a loving God as He may express Himself in our group conscience. Our leaders are but trusted servants; they do not govern.

"Group problems need group answers. One person can't decide what's best for the group; we all need to get involved. When we all help to solve problems, everybody has a chance to grow. That's the group conscience at work--the way God wants it to be."

— Alateen-a Day at a Time, p. 167

Substantial unanimity means that any decision reached by the meeting will be reflective of the will of the entire group. I want to have an open mind when listening to others' opinions. To be the healthiest I can be, I need to let go of the thought "my way or the highway", calm my mind and listen without judgement.

The booklet Al-Anon and Alateen Groups at Work (P-24) explains on page 51 that "the group conscience is the will of the group" and is based on members' use of the Twelve Traditions and Twelve Concepts of Service as guides, maintaining "principles above personalities" and sharing information as equals.

This is where having a "loving God" is helpful. If I lead with my heart and my Higher Power, then the will of the group will come first and the group will do what is best for the whole. I have to remember that when my meeting has a group conscience all members should have a chance to share. When I chair our group conscience, I call on everyone. If they choose not to share, it becomes their decision, not mine. I know some say this is the political side of Al-Anon. I believe they say that because they fear conflict.

Yes, some of us can be bullies but hopefully the chair can maintain a sense of calm and allow people to take turns and share without being interrupted. Tradition Two also reminds us that no matter how experienced someone is in the program, a leader can only suggest and negotiate to get things done, not make the decisions and command. I have to remember that if I turn my will and life over to a loving God, I can also turn the group conscience over to the same Higher Power. I personally love the idea of a group of people having a healthy discussion. It is very empowering and can carry over to my family and how I deal with issues at home and work. Do I allow my family members or co-workers a voice without judging them? Do I respect their ideas? Do I lead with my heart and my Higher Power at home and work?

The next time your meeting has a group conscience, stay and be an active member of your group. You will be surprised and see "the one authority" in action. My Higher Power speaks through the members of Al-Anon and I don't want to miss what my Higher Power has to tell me.

"We reach this majority through discussion. In Al-Anon, each of us has equally important voice. As members, we have an obligation to express that voice and to vote according to our convictions, even if we are the only ones who believe that idea." —How Al-Anon Works, p. 109

—Susan C., Friday Night Fellowship

Some Thoughts on Tradition Two:

I like knowing that we are all equal in our groups. For so long, I sought everyone's approval and was devastated when I didn't get it. In this group I don't need to impress anyone. I am accepted just as I am. The authority is not the sole responsibility of one person – not even a group of people. God is the only authority. —The Forum

The History of F.R.O.G. (Finally Relying on God) in Recovery AFG

F.R.O.G. In Recovery AFG humbly started as a small group on Friday, April 14, 2006. Some members were feeling the great need of starting a meeting in West County that fully honored the 12 Traditions while embracing "obedience to the unenforceable" of Al-Anon. We felt this was vital to carry the message of Al-Anon to all who walked through the door needing and wanting to recover from the effects of alcoholism — a safe place to share, learning the Al-Anon program and what it has to offer. With lots of God winks along the way we found a very supportive pastor and church who offered us two rooms and fully screened and vetted babysitters!

The church offered these rooms free of charge. However, we had no funds at the time and wanted to honor our Tradition 7. We decided we could meet at members' homes for 6 weeks to raise the funds for rent. The pastor said they would accept whatever our group could afford for rent. Through our first group conscience at the members' homes we named the group F. R.O.G. In Recovery and went through the proper channels to get the small group registered. We moved to the First Baptist Church of Ellisville after 6 weeks to hold the weekly Friday, 10-11 a.m., open, mixed, safe childcare, handicapped, CAL-only (Conference Approved Literature) meeting and secured a checking account. The group grew strong in knowledge and numbers as we applied the Al-Anon ideas and principles. Newcomers as well as long timers get the full benefit of Al-Anon as a result of staying true to the Traditions!

Our Area 31, District 13, April 14, 2006 newly-formed group grew and learned through trials and tribulations with valuable experience, strength, and hope over the years. Now celebrating 20 years strong and growing in West County we've moved locations twice since our humble beginnings. Each time we've needed to move, we have relied on our group conscience to make a decision using the Traditions, and of course members' work of the 12 Steps. We are now located at St. Martin's Episcopal Church in Ellisville. We welcome newcomers, encourage sponsorship, have monthly speakers, fellowship and work the 12 Steps, Traditions and Concepts format. We are committed to using only CAL and speakers are informed and asked to stick to only CAL in their talks. Unfortunately we are no longer able to provide childcare due to liability issues. We do, however, offer a hybrid meeting over Zoom! We contribute monthly to WSO, Area 31, District 13, and the St. Louis AIS. Members have sponsored and supported the Alateen program; we pay the church rent, host an annual potluck with some of the proceeds going to the AIS and donations to Alateen. One of our members chaired the Al-Anon portion of the Fall Classic years ago, encouraging service work and giving back to Al-Anon. We offer a library of free pamphlets and CAL for sale. All group service positions are filled and rotated out as suggested. Everyone brings their spiritual gifts to the meeting with such grace, love, support, and service for Al-Anon and the families of alcoholics. It is a WE program. Our group has gone through adversity, joy, laughter, tears, weddings, births and the death of loved ones. Together we will get through anything life has to offer, One Day At A Time. Please join in with us and share your experience, strength and hope. All are welcome!

One that was kind, gentle, and forgiving. A God that didn't expect perfection. This was a God so different from the one I had been led to believe in. I can trust this God. I can rely on Him for everything knowing that He understands me, forgives me, and won't punish me when I make a mistake. It has relieved me of exhaustion, fear, loneliness, and desperation.
